In the fields of medical, industrial, and military communication, research into the use of optical communication such as FTTH (Fiber To The Home) and FTTC (Fiber To The Curb) is under way in order to realize communication systems with high flexibility and high reliability. In this type of optical communication, because of the characteristics such as robustness of the light, wide bandwidth, high efficiency, and low cost of light, communication is possible within a wide range, both indoor and outdoor. Furthermore, current communication systems can make very effective use of limited resources by employing a multi-access method such as distributed time division multiplex (TDM) and a highly-efficient transmission method such as optical multicast (OMC) etc. Because of the 570a42141b
