Version: 1.1 Developer: Slado Download: OS: Windows Price: User Rating: Rating: How To Use Mapbuilder By Matt Pfeifer - Description iMapBuilder allows you to easily create professional looking interactive maps. by slado - In this day and age there are so many web-based mapping applications that it can be a daunting task to decide which one to use. Many are too complex or have not kept up with current technology, so how can you make a good decision? Most importantly, do you have a budget? The answer is you do not need to spend $100,000 on a mapping application if you don't have that kind of budget. Instead you can create an interactive map that will cost far less than that. In fact, there is an application available for free called iMapBuilder that allows you to create maps fast and easy with no programming. You will also need a picture of your location. iMapBuilder works with google maps or world maps and an aerial picture of your area will make it much easier to create your interactive map. Once you have an aerial picture of your area, import it into your computer and go to www.iloveilive.com and download iMapBuilder. If you are using google maps, you can also import your location into your google maps account and it will populate your map with your location automatically. If you have never done anything with web design before, you can try to work with web graphics on your own first. To create a static map, the first thing you need to do is to go to iloveilive.com/mapbuilder and download iMapBuilder. It will open a folder. From there, you can select which map you want to use. For example, if you have your map in.png format, it will automatically open the map file you have downloaded, but if it is in.gif format, you can download it and use it instead. If you don't already have a google maps account, you can sign up for one by going to www.iloveilive.com/googlemaps and clicking on sign up. Now all you need to do is add your location to the map. The area you have chosen on the map can be any shape or size. You can make your map circular, square, rectangular or any other shape and color. However,

With so many websites, search engines and social media that are used as a major means of communication for small and medium-sized enterprises, online marketing is key to increasing brand awareness. The design and content of your website as well as the social media presence that you have can directly affect your sales and customer base. This is why it is so important to have a website that can be used as an effective tool in growing your brand and sales. A lot of small and medium-sized businesses are unaware of the importance of website design and online marketing. An appealing website is important but what is even more crucial is the way that your site is being optimized and used by your visitors. Are you using the right content? Are the images on your site the most appealing? Do you have the right message? Without a good website design and a correctly optimized marketing plan in place, small and medium-sized enterprises will be missing out on one of the most effective and affordable ways of getting their business noticed. By using the right tools to create an attractive website and a well-designed social media profile, it is possible to generate a significant increase in brand awareness. Search Engine Optimization and Marketing When it comes to small and medium-sized enterprises, your website may well have a dedicated eCommerce feature. That is, it may well be the location where your customers are buying your products or services. If you are selling online, you will need to make sure that your web design will give you the best possible search engine optimization (SEO) so that your customers will be able to find your site. Google, Bing and other search engines are looking for websites that are designed in a way that is attractive to customers and informative to visitors. The best images are the ones that are aesthetically pleasing and meet the viewer's expectations. What makes them aesthetically pleasing? The subject matters of the images play a role. Whether you are looking for photos, portraits, family photography, or any type of portrait or personal photography, the subject matter will impact how your photos are viewed by your client and the wider public. What's the point of making a striking portrait of your client? The
