Other key features in FIFA 22 include "Advances Player Traits," which allows players to switch between ball possession styles and techniques, and create "User Knees" that give players options to jump higher and sprint faster. Features Key:

- Pro-Player Intelligence - Includes the most realistic AI in FIFA history. Listen to and talk to the best players in the world, finding out what they want to achieve with the ball and learn their preferences from watching how they approach every pass, dribble, and shot. Be the first to realise their potential - press the right button at the right time to find out how to challenge every player with an RTS (Real Time Strategy) tactics system that keeps you on your toes and reacts to your input.
- Global Scouting network - Pro-Asstren coach invites, appears on your radar then offers assistance or advice. Presently only in Career Mode, will also be available for Ultimate Team in Ultimate Team Seasons mode.
- Improved Authenticity - All new animations, textures and detailed motion capture data from real-world players who have used the latest motion-capture equipment by STATS Ltd to capture more realistic action. Most of the new models and movements in the game have been awarded when they entered the Premier League or La Liga academies. The new broadcast data for Premier League matches has also been used with the goalkeepers, unlike previous games, which could not get their positioning data correctly.
- New Passchase, Defend-to-kick Offence (DTKO), and Covert Defences - Change the way you defend. Your options are now based on the attributes of the player with the best attributes on the team and your attacker has options to apply pressure after missing a tackle, and know the options to use to beat your opponent to the ball. With your defender allowing your defender to run into space, you can now beat a man and win tackles in advance. The new Passchase system works in every direction on the pitch and moves the passing player into the space behind the attacker. The new Defend-to-kick Offence (DTKO) system is a new chance to unlock in Attack mode for any quick, agile defender and it ensures that your dribbling player survives to get into the space behind the midfield. No longer will you be punished for interfering with a defender as teams will now force full-backs to go right forward to give their team a numerical advantage at the back. The Covert Defences screen now shows you whether your back-marker is defending, passing, or changing position
- New manager AI Pack - The AI has its own objectives and reasons to train
