Q: How can I add an element to a Jsoup table? I have the following Jsoup code that retrieves some data from a table: `Connection.Response res = Jsoup.connect(e.getDestination()).timeout(20 * 1000).method(Connection.Method.GET).execute(); Elements table_elements = res.parse();` How can I add an element (a column) to the table with the data received?

`table_elements.add(t);` the `table_elements` are null, and I have no idea how to add columns to them.

A: I can think of 2 options: You can create a separate `Elements` collection inside the `table_elements` collection, and add your column element to this collection. You can clone the `table_elements` collection by using: `Elements cloned_table_elements = new Elements(); for (Element element : table_elements){ cloned_table_elements.add(element); }` If you use the second option, you can also do:

Elements cloned_table_elements =
new Elements();

cloned_table_elements.select("th");
