program..Q: How to build an API with Laravel and VueJS I'm trying to build an API
for a Laravel project
and as you may know Laravel doesn't
natively support
VueJS. That's why I'm looking to build an API using VueJS and Laravel. This is my router.php code:
Route::get('/',
function() { return

---

```
View::make('index'); }->name('main-
home'); Route::resour ce('/projects',
    'ProjectsController');

In my Laravel Project
I have a route like this:

```
Route::get('projects', array('as' =>
'projects', 'uses' => ' ProjectsController@in dex')); So in this case, how can I get the projects from the database? I know there are several

ways for an API like this but what are the benefits and drawbacks for each of them? I mean, the main thing I want to do is to get the entire projects from the database in JSON format without the need to send any header to the client. So I'm looking for the simplest solution. A: You can use VueResource in this case because Vue
